OPEN UP TRADE.

Surely some measures might be taken to open up trade with the outports. Neither the government nor the business people of Honolulu want to shove danger upon the people of the other islands and the country districts of Oahu. Those people have, however, a vital interest in opening the channels for supplies of necessities from Honolulu. The question is how this can be done without any danger of cholera's being carried into the country districts. It seems to be the opinion of many people in Honolulu that those of the other islands are doing perfectly right in their independent measures for self protection. Certainly all that they have been reasonably criticised for is their ignoring of extremely cautious means adopted by the Board of Health for their protection. In their profuse letter writing they refer to that body as the "Honolulu Board of Health." Now, as pointed out by this paper before, the jurisdiction of the Board is over the whole group, and not confined to the capital. If the people of the other islands would act in conjunction with the Board in preventive measures, as the people of Honolulu have done in both repressive and preventive measures, there should be little fear that their protection would not be well assured.

There is every hope at this writing that the plague is under control in Honolulu, that its bounds have been fixed, and that it will before long be finally stamped out. It is at the same time probable that more cases will crop up, from the eating of fish caught clandestinely in corrupted water, as well as the drinking of such water, contrary to the strict orders. In the meantime, is all inter-island trade, with a few exceptions of articles in constantly quarantined vessels, to remain under an embargo? After the citizens of Honolulu have proved themselves possessed of such grand resources, both in fighting back the visitation of pestilence and in relieving the distress arising therefrom, they ought to be capable, in conjunction with the Government, of devising means for opening up inter-island commerce without danger and yet with as much expedition, so far as the vessels are concerned, as when there was no pestilence. The remedy we would suggest is to have quarantine stations established at all the important points of distribution on the other islands, corresponding with the quarantined wharves and warehouses now effectively established at Honolulu. Facilities for fumigating all freight and baggage could be provided at each station, also accommodation for passengers to be quarantined before mingling with the community. Then let steamers ply back and forth between the Honolulu quarantined docks and the quarantine stations at the outports, without requiring them to lie off the port of Honolulu longer than to await their turn at the docks. Passengers intending to leave Honolulu could then time themselves exactly for going into quarantine before the sailing of the steamers on which they were going to travel.

This plan is respectfully submitted to the Government and the business community. The expense would be considerable, but not to be mentioned in comparison with the ruinous suspension of inter-island traffic, which, unless some remedy be put in operation, must continue until it is certain that the last vestige of cholera has been obliterated. It would pay the merchants of Honolulu to come to the help of the Government in providing funds for carrying out this proposition.

OBSERVATIONS.

Meetings of the Board of Health where there is more talk than action are a waste of valuable time.

Hilo seems to have entertained angels unawares in quarantine. The gentlemen of the cloth must have been a blessed foil to the caged "holy terror."

That is a useful provision in the Judiciary Act which enables the Supreme Court bench to be filled by a Circuit Court Judge or a member of the bar when a Justice is either disabled or disqualified.

There is danger in every day's delay in placing some effectual obstacle to fishing in Nuuanu stream. It is equally important to have all the infected pools and water courses of the Palama district either drained off or disinfected at any cost.

An interesting pen picture of the Durrant trial from the San Francisco Bulletin is reprinted in this issue. It bears out a common impression that the newspapers of that city have condemned the prisoner in advance of his trial.

A traveled gentleman made the remark the other day that four gallons of acetic acid thrown into Nuuanu stream would more effectually sterilize its waters than the tons of another disinfectant proposed to be employed for the purpose.

An old resident says that infection of cholera in fish can be discovered by splitting them down the back. The same means of detection of cholera in hogs, he said also, gave definite results. It is said that a certain proportion of the hogs imported here in the past has been infected with hog cholera, and that the carcasses of those discovered have been buried at Iwilei.

Encouraging news has been received from the Peary relief expedition to the Arctic. The vessel Kite called at Bolsteinburg on July 15, and took on board Professor Dyche. An American schooner that brought this report also reported very little ice south of Greenland waters, and it was believed that the Kite would have no difficulty in reaching Peary's headquarters in Whale Sound.

Another letter has been offered for publication, attacking the Japanese translation of Board of Health rules. As the former one's assertions have been strongly contradicted in reputable quarters, we have taken what seemed the best course possible, in the interests of truth and fair play, in requiring to have the second letter endorsed before publication with the signatures of at least three recognized Japanese scholars who understand English.

THE POLICE COURT.

An Opium Fiend Gets Thirty Days on the Reef.

The proceedings in the District Court this morning did not occupy much of Judge Perry's time, as the majority of cases were put off to further dates and eleven others were nolle pros'd.

Four Chinese gamblers were fined $10 each and costs.

The case of Robert Boyd, charged with extortion, was set for the 4th of October.

Ah Man pleaded guilty of having opium in possession and was sentenced to thirty days on the reef with $1.20 costs.

O. G. Blake, an Hawaiian gentleman, accused of selling liquor without a license, will have his trial tomorrow.

Judge Perry will take up civil cases and tax suits at this afternoon's session.

More Chinese Coming.

About seven or eight hundred Chinese contract laborers are due on the China on October 6th, unless their shipment was stopped in time, telegrams to that effect having been sent. If the dispatches reached Hongkong in time the vessel will only bring between 50 and 100 Chinese on six-months' residence permits, and may not even land these when her Captain learns the state of affairs here.

Among those who deserve mention for hard work during the recent epidemic is detective Hammer, who was on duty from 5 a.m. till nearly midnight for over fifteen days.

Ladies on the other Islands can do their shopping by post by applying to L. B. Kern for samples. They should embrace this opportunity, and get a single yard at wholesale prices.

FITS CURED

(From U. S. Journal of Medicine.)
Prof. W. H. Peck, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician; his success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of 20 years' standing cured by him. He publishes valuable work on this disease which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferer who may send their P.O. and Express address. We advise anyone wishing a cure to address, Prof. W. H. PECK, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York.

ON THE WERTHEIM
TRIPLE OR THREE-STITCH
Sewing Machine

This week we want to call the attention of the ladies of Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands generally to the merits of the Wertheim Sewing Machine. This is provided with a Belgian invention by which three different stitches may be sewn according to the will of the operator. Whether the lady of the house wants a single chain stitch or a combined two-thread or embroidery stitch without in any way impairing the excellence of the machine as a lock-stitch one, is simply a matter of pressing a button. With this machine by simply pressing a button either a lock stitch, chain stitch or combined lock and chain stitch is produced as desired. In other words this one machine performs the work of three distinct ones, and not content with that can furnish in addition a beautiful darn in linen as well as woolen materials and underwear by means of its far-reaching chain stitch, and the need of any special darning appliance is therefore avoided. To produce the chain stitch all that is necessary is to press down a button near the stitch regulator and move it from left to right and go right along with your sewing.

For dressmakers and those who have much making over to do, this machine is the best out. The chain-stitch is easily unraveled by undoing the last loop at the end of the seam, and although the embroidery stitch is just as firmly locked as the lock stitch and is much more elastic, yet it is easily undone. All the operator has to do is to draw out the interlaced shuttle thread and the chain stitch remains, which latter unravels easily as stated above. The machine can readily be changed from one stitch to another and back again to the ordinary lock stitch without any danger of getting out of order.

"Seeing is believing" is an old and true saying and we cordially invite all the ladies to come in and see this machine in actual operation in our store.

We have a large number of these elegant machines on hand and will sell them at reasonable prices. We guarantee them to do all that we advertise.

There are any number of ladies in this city whose hearts would be made glad by one of these machines in place of the antiquated ones they are now using, and if their husbands only knew what was good for themselves they would come right down to the store in the morning and order one sent home.

Is pain and the city of Honolulu is today the cleanest spot on earth. We've had sickness in the town but it is over and every one is happier in consequence, reaction has set in and business is on the move again. Ladies do not have to devote so much time to house cleaning affairs, and they can give some of the hours during the day to making their dresses or selecting material for them.

During the fall days of the plague we have overhauled all of our domestic stock and marked down prices to suit the times. Just look at the goods and compare the prices with those you have been paying in the past.

Boys' Suits,
$2.50 upwards.
Children's Suits,
Latest styles, fifty cents to as much as you want to pay.
